While Paul Martin sheds crocodile tears in Ireland, it is worth noting that lax Liberal immigration policies allowed thousands of Khalistani terrorists to enter Canada in the first place. Our intelligence agencies then flubbed the Air-India investigation through indifference and incompetence.

To this day, evidence of tolerance towards terror abounds. An Indian politician this week was embarrassed while visiting Brampton's Dixie Gurdwara: The temple unveiled a hateful slogan proclaiming support for "Khalistan" terrorists, which was splashed prominently across newspapers in India.

Thanks to the Liberals, Canada has developed an international reputation as a nation which shelters and tolerates terrorists.
