Terrorist victory in Mumbai

National Post Published: Tuesday, December 09, 2008

The terrorists in Mumbai have achieved a great victory -- with the active collusion of most Western media. Their first great triumph is the (false) suggestion that Indian Muslims are "marginalized," since their incomes and socio-economic status lags that of the majority Hindus. In reality, the Indian government has bent over backwards to help Muslims, including allowing them to employ shariah law in civil cases and subsidizing hajj pilgrimages to Mecca. Muslims lag due to their failure, thus far, to take advantage of India's opportunities.

We also have witnessed fear-mongering against an alleged backlash from so-called "Hindu nationalists." It is amazing: Terrorists stage a massive strike and kill mostly Hindus, and yet some members of the Western media can only talk about alleged "Hindu extremists." Truly, these people are masterful strategists.
